

Prevac 320L

Mechanical damages on the seed shell can occur if the wrong seed extraction method is used. An insect or mechanically damaged seed has poorer storage capacity and increases the risk for fungus infections. The Prevac process separates dead and damaged seeds

Technical data

A bigger version of the prevac 100 with a capacity of approx 320 liters. Lid is operated by a pneumatic cylinder.